

UNIT SIZE GUIDE

Working out how much space you need doesn't only depend on what you want to store but also the kind of access you need to the items you are storing. Are you looking to store the items shut the door and not touch them again or do you want to get to your items while they are stored? If you need to access them then you will need to pack the unit so that you can get in and around the items. Contact us today to work out what size space will fit your needs.

Listed below are descriptions of our most common unit sizes. Please note that space sizes are approximate and for comparison purposes only.
